Love in Later Life.

They err who deem love's brighest hour
In blooming youth is known;
Its purest, tenderest, holiest power
In later life is shown:
When passions chastened and subdued
To riper years are given,
And earth and earthly things are viewed
In light that breaks from Heaven.

[Ninety-two years ago to-day, a band of heroic patriots assembled to sign and adopt the following instrument. With hearts warmed by ties of consanguinity to their mother country, and yet more fondly devoted to a love of liberty, no sacrifices were deemed too great to be endured in the accomplishment of their noble purpose, which only brave men dared to consider in the presence of the dangers attending it. The magnitude of the undertaking and the deep solemnity of the occasion are indicated by the ominous words of Dr. Franklin, after the last name had been enrolled, and the pledge of life, fortune and honor had sealed the precious document—"Gentlemen," said he, "we must now all hang together, or we shall most assuredly hang separately." The wild demonstrations of joy which followed the daring deed, bespoke the unconquerable earnestness of the people in their determination to defend and maintain the written purpose of their representatives, and finally the blessing of a country redeemed from the iron hand of despotism rewarded them for their patient toil and endurance. All honor to the heroes whose names, linked with the Declaration, gave life to a new nation founded in a love of liberty. All honor to the anniversary, which for ages to come will dwell in the memory of a free people:]

Declaration of Independence.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves, by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former system of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operations till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right to representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses, repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasions from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for the naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers, to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our consitutions, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishmet for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally, the form of our governments:

For suspending our legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated governmet here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries, to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely parelleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction, of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them as we hold the rest of mankind—enemies in war—in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states: that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

EARLY PRINTING.—In the infancy of the art its results were comparatively very rude. The type used was intended to imitate writing and partook of the character of gothic and script. In punctuating, they employed no other than the period and colon; an oblique stroke, afterwards introduced, fulfilled the purpose of our comma. Pages had neither running title or number. The divisions of words and sentences were very imperfect, and the language was not divided into paragraphs. Capital letters were not used to commence a sentence, nor in proper names. No rule seems to have regulated their orthography, which was entirely without method, and their abbreviations were so numerous as to cause the necessity of publishing a book, by the direction in which they could read. But one kind of letters were used throughout. A space was left at the beginning of chapters for the illuminator, who wrote in various colored ink the initial letter. They were often elaborately ornamented, and very costly, being embellished with flowers and figures, and sometimes variegated with gold and silver. The first presses were fashioned after the common wine-presses. For a short time the paper was printed but one side, the blank sides being pasted together. The only forms of books were the folio and quarto. Two or three hundred copies were then considered a large edition. Dates were often omitted, and the name of the printer, when given, was placed at the end of the book.

BUCHANAN'S LAST ILLNESS.—Ex-President Buchanan died of pleuro pneumonia. He had been ill for some months, but was getting better, until the recent damp weather caused a relapse. On Sunday his physician had hopes of his recuperation; but towards night he began to sink rapidly and exhibit the symptoms of early dissolution. Such of his relatives and friends as could be summoned were with him in his last moments. He prayed and took the Sacrament at 6 o'clock, on Monday morning. "God bless my country," were the last words expressed by him, and were repeated by him several times in a whisper. One of his last requests was, that ex-Presidents Pierce, Fillmore, and President Johnson, be invited to attend his funeral.

IT is a great deal easer to forgive a man who is a good deal bigger than you, than one about your size, whom you think you can lick.

Parallel Between Washington and Bonaparte.

BY CHAUTEAUBRIAND.

If we compare Washington and Bonaparte, man to man, the genius of the former seems of a less elevated order than that of the latter. Washington belongs not, like Bonaparte, to that race of Alexanders and Cæsars, who surpass the ordinary stature of mankind. Nothing astonishing attaches to his person; he is not pitted against the ablest captains and the mightiest monarchs of his time; he traverses no seas; he hurries not from Memphis to Vienna, and from Cadiz to Moscow; he defends himself with a handful of citizens on a soil without recollections and without celebrity, in the narrow circle of the domestic hearth. He fights none of those battles which renew the triumphs of Arbela and Pharsalia; he overturns no thrones to compose others with their ruins; he places not his foot on the necks of kings; he sends not word to them in the vestibules of his palaces—

"Qu'ils se font trop attendre, et qu'Attile s'ennuie."

Something of stillness envelopes the actions of Washington; he acts deliberately; you would say that he feels himself to be the representative of the liberty of future ages, and that he is afraid of compromising it. It is not his own destinies, but those of his country, with which this hero of a new king is charged; he allows not himself to hazard what does not belong to him. But what light bursts forth from this profound obscurity! Search the unknown forests where glistened the sword of Washington, what will you find there? graves? no; a world! Washington has left the United States for a trophy of his field of battle.

Bonaparte has not any one characteristic of this grave American; he fights on an old soil, surrounded with glory and celebrity; he wishes to create nothing but his own renown; he takes upon himself nothing but his own aggrandizement. He seems to be aware that his mission will be short, that the torrent which falls from such a height will speedily be exhausted; he hastens to enjoy and abuse his glory, as men do a fugitive youth. Like the gods of Homer, he wants to reach the end of the world in four steps; he appears on every shore, he hastily inscribes his name in the annals of every nation; he throws crowns, as he runs, to his family and his soldiers; he is in a hurry in his monuments, in his laws, in his victories. Stooping over the world, with one hand he overthrows kings, and with the other strikes down the revolutionary giant! but in crushing anarchy he stifles liberty, and finally loses his own in the field of his last battle.

Each is rewarded according to his works: Washington raises his nation to independence; a retired magistrate, he sinks quietly to rest beneath his paternal roof, amid the regrets of his countrymen, and the veneration of all nations.

Bonaparte robbed a nation of its independence; a fallen Emperor, he is hurried into an exile where the fears of the world deem him not safely enough imprisoned in the custody of the ocean. So long as, feeble and chained upon a rock, he struggles with death, Europe dares not lay down its arms. He expires; this intelligence, published at the gate of the palace before which the conquerer had caused so many funerals to be proclaimed, neither stops nor astonishes the passenger; what had the citizens to deplore?

The republic of Washington subsists, whereas the empire of Bonaparte is destroyed; he died between the first and second voyage of a Frenchman, who found a grateful nation where he had fought for a few oppressed colonists.

Washington and Bonaparte sprang from the bosom of a republic; both born of liberty, the one was faithful to it, the other betrayed it. Their lot in futurity will be as different as their choice.

The name of Washington will spread with liberty from age to age; it will mark the commencement of an altogether new era for mankind.

The name of Bonaparte also will be repeated by future generations; but it will not be accompanied with any benediction and will frequently serve for authority to oppressors, great or small.

Washington was completely the representative of the wants, the ideas, the knowledge, and the opinions of his time; he seconded, instead of thwarting the movement of mind; he aimed at that which it was his duty to aim at; hence the coherence and perpetuity of his work. This man, who appears not very striking because he is natural and in his just proportion, blended his existence with that of his country; his glory is the common patrimony of growing civilization: his renown towers like one of those sanctuaries, whence flows an inexhaustible spring for the people.

Bonaparte might, in like manner, have enriched the public domain; he acted upon the most civilized, the most intelligent, the bravest and most brilliant nation of the earth. What rank would he occupy at this day in the universe, if he had combined magnanimity with the heroic qualities which he possessed—if, Washington and Bonaparte in one, he had appointed liberty the heir to his glory?

But this prodigious giant did not completely connect his destinies with those of his contemporaries; his genius belonged to modern times, his ambition was of by-gone ages; he did not perceive that the miracles of his life far surpassed the value of a diadem, and that this Goteic ornament would ill become him. Sometimes he advanced a step with the age, at others he retrograded toward the past; and whether he opposed or followed the current of time, by his immense strength he repelled the waves or hurried them along with him. In his eyes men were but an engine of power; no sympathy subsisted between their happiness and his. He promised to deliver, and he fettered them; he secluded himself from them; they withdrew from him. The Kings of Egypt placed their sepulchral pyramids, not among flourishing fields, but amid sterile sands; those vast tombs stand like eternity in the desert; in their image Bonaparte built the monument of his renown.

THE first thing a young woman wants to do after she is sixteen is to become a bridesmaid; and the next to have one.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

SATURDAY, : : : : : : JULY 4, 1868.

"Ku Klux Klan."—It was amusing to the passer-by on last Saturday evening, after the result of the election for School officers had been announced, to see the "manhoods" and their lighter colored brethren standing on the street corners earnestly inquiring—"What does it mean? Sill and Goode! Democrats!! elected School Trustees by 66 majority, over two as truly loyal men as we have in our party!!! What does it mean? The Ku Kluxes must be around; something must be done!" Must there? Well, gentlemen, it is easy to conceive what that something is that "must be done." Your party must cease its outrages on the liberties of the people. Your illegal, irresponsible Congress must return to first principles in the administration of the Government, or give place to purer and better men. The toiling millions demand equal taxation and economy in national affairs; that a bonded aristocracy must and shall bear their equal proportion of taxation. This is what is meant.

Negro Rulers.—Under this head the New Orleans Picayune asks: What would the people of the city of Cincinnati think if eight of its wealthiest and most respected citizens, who were members of the City Council, should be removed by order of General Grant, and their places supplied by negroes picked up from its pavements or levees? Could there be any limit to the indignation which would be expressed? Could there be any terms of approbium too severe upon that man who would be guilty of such an outrage upon this community? The depths of the English language would be sounded to find words of baseness to apply to him. The great business interest of Cincinnati—its government for the protection of life, liberty and property—to be surrendered to negroes! This supposable case of Cincinnati is actual reality for New Orleans.

Reconstruction.—It cannot be doubted that the policy of Congress will soon succeed in carrying peace and civilization into the South.—[Humbolt Times.

If base treachery, vile persecution, despotic military rule and dishonorable purposes give birth to peace and civilization, there might be hope for such a success, but while the fires of insane prejudice burn in the hearts of corrupt fanatics who hold the reins of power, there can be no relief for the suffering people of the South. Want and misery cannot be driven from their doors until the people put down the standing armies and negro bureaus that are daily consuming their substance and devastating their country.

Grim Joke.—In his letter of acceptance, Colfax says if there had been no Republican party, free press and free speech would be unknown. This is rather refreshing coming as it does from the representative of a party which for years past has gloried in opposition, vilification, censorship and attempted destruction of free press and free speech. No attempt to shift the responsibility of Radical infamy from where it properly belongs can deceive the people who have weighed them in the balance and found them wanting in every attribute that properly belongs to an honorable party.

Hurry Up.—A Louisiana correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says the Radicals will have to hurry up the organization of their government or the officers elect will all be in the State prison. In one Parish four negroes elected to various dignities are already in limbo, for theft or some other crime. Does not their imprisonment call for the interference of Congress? Why sleeps Sumner on his post when his friends need his assistance?

Not Grant-ed.—At Port Hudson, Michigan, an election was recently held for Mayor. The Democratic candidate beat "the regular Grant candidate" by a majority of 137. Radicals are endeavoring to make themselves believe that Grant is popular with the people, but the people don't see it. Port Hudson gave a Radical majority last year; the city has been "reconstructed" since and Grant stock is below par.

Wants Them to Come.—Negro suffrage Sumner wants the Southern States to send negro representatives to Congress. What's the difference? Charcoal would make a white mark on some of the howling fanatics already there. It would be hard to render that lawless body more infamous than it now is.

Knows Nothing about It.—Gen. Grant, in a letter to Col. Morris, of Illinois, says he knows nothing about politics, and could'nt write a political letter if he was to try. That's a candid confession but not a very consoling one for his supporters.

A Fair Joke.—Alluding to the brief letter of acceptance from General Grant, and the somewhat diffuse epistle of Colfax to the same purpose, the Missouri Republican recalls Lord Dundreary's conundrum, and says that in this case 'the tale wags the dog.'

In California the radishes grow from twenty-four to thirty feet long. They are pulled up by machinery, and the farmers wall up the holes for wells. There is no doubt of this, for a Radical told us so.—[Palmyra (Mo.) Spectator.

So far as heard from the election in Mississippi the Democrats have 2,000 majority. The negroes, doubtless, are getting disgusted with their first love, the Radicals.

Hon. W. W. Pendegast, of Napa, will deliver an oration at Santa Rosa, Sonoma county, to-day.

Large Income.—The income returns of the Bank of California amount to $166,000 in currency.

Ripe Tomatoes have made their appearance in Marysville.

Our Anniversary.

Nearly a century ago to-day a band of patriots invoking the protection of Divine Providence, absolved themselves from allegiance to a tyranical usurper and proclaimed the colonies of America free and independant States. The almost insurmountable barriers to be overcome in carrying out their intentions, as well as the fierce hatred of their enemies which threatened to send them to the scaffold for their intrepidity, were met by the calm, dignified bearing of wise and great men inspired by the majesty of their cause, and bravely determined to make all sacrifices necessary to accomplish their purposes. Sensible, to a painful degree, of the disastrous consequences that would follow a failure, and yet nerved with a proud consciousness of the glorious results promised by success, they faltered not, but sent forth the Declaration, signed by the noble Hancock, to be "submitted to a candid world," and maintained and defended by the strong arms of patriots united in a holy purpose. For the security of liberty and general welfare, the thirteen colonies—ever afterward to be known as States—were bound together by mutual consent in a league of friendship, and the unrestrained joy of the people made the welkin ring in honor of the event. The system of independence, thus inaugurated, and finally, through years of personal suffering, gloriously achieved, entitles our fathers to that just meed of praise which fills the heart of every patriot lover of his country. The feelings of peace and security, as well as the unbounded confidence in the leading spirits of the Revolution, that pervaded the minds of the scarred veterans who won the prize, are aptly illustrated in the address of the society of the Cincinnati to the beloved Chief Magistrate of the nation on the occasion of the celebration of the first anniversary after the organization of the constitutional government: "Under your conduct, sir, this band of soldiers was led to glory and to conquest; and we feel confident that under your administration our country will speedily arrive at an enviable state of prosperity and happiness." The feeble and exhausted Colonies, emerging from the gloom and desolation of an eight years' war, witnessed in astonishment the rapid advance in population, wealth and power of their beloved country—destined to become first in the rank of the great nations of the earth. In view of the rich blessings we have enjoyed as the result of the bravery, patient toil and endurance of our fathers, it is meet that this day should be everywhere appropriately celebrated. As creatures of one God, in whose abundant goodness we are permitted to celebrate this glorious event, let a grateful people unite in doing honor to the heroes, who, as instruments in His hands, bequeathed the rich legacy to their children.

Still They Come.—Swarms of Chinese continue to swell the number already cursing the State by their presence. The San Francisco Call, speaking on this subject, justly remarks:

As regards industry and their productive capacity, every Chinaman that comes here fills a place which could be better filled by a person of our own race. But in the present condition of the country there is a political aspect to the case, deserving serious consideration. The reasons which were urged in favor of conferring the privilege of suffrage on the negroes of the South, appeal just as forcibly in favor of admitting the Chinese of California to the ballot-box. And there can be no doubt that those who brought about the former will soon endeavor to secure the latter.

The insane policy of Radicalism, if not checked by defeat at the polls, will undoubtedly lead to just such results. On more than one occasion Radical orators have proclaimed themselves in favor of Chinese suffrage. That curse which they regard only as a "question of time," would have, doubtless, already been entailed on the State of California but for the stinging rebuke Radicalism received last Fall at the polls. The people will "lay a straw in the way."

Could'nt Trust Them.—It is evident that if the Union party was to adopt the Ten Commandments one by one, as a portion of its platform, and declare its belief in the principles set forth in the Sermon on the Mount, the Democracy would vehemently attack these documents as meaning nothing but "nigger" equality.—[Oregonian.

There are certain parties whose motives are doubted even when their professions are fair. Some are disbelieved even when they speak the truth. It is unfortunate for the Radicals that their corrupt practices so long indulged in, have utterly destroyed the confidence of the people in their declarations. There is certainly no reason to hope, however, that they will ever adopt the Ten Commandments, such an event would prognosticate a millennium and frighten the devil.

Well Answered.—Congress, however, has undoubted power to take away the ballot from rebels.—[Sacramento Union.

Congress has no legal power to take the ballot from any class of persons, or to confer it upon any class. By the laws of the States, convicted rebels, i. e., felons, would be deprived of suffrage. Legislative bodies have no right to pass upon the guilt or innocence of parties. The Courts alone have the legal right to say who are guilty. Whom the Courts do not declare guilty the laws of our country presume to be innocent. This is as true of treason as any other felony.—[Call.

Left Us.—Miss Hattie Rogers left us last Thursday evening for a brief visit to Santa Rosa. Speed the moments, Hattie, we'll miss the sunny smile, the pleasant word, till you return.—(Oroville Record.

Take some soothing Ann-odyne.—[Appeal.

Or Ja(y)ne's Pectoral.

Rough on Bedford.—An exchange says the Rev. Mr. Taylor, of New York, who is writing a "History of the Devil," has gone to New Bedford, Massachusetts, to procure material for his work.

Southern Immigration to California.—The Examiner says that General J. D. Fraser, recently arrived in California from South Carolina, proposes to travel through this State for the purpose of reporting on its advantages as a field for Southern capital, enterprise and labor. He says that there are thousands of the best people of the South, who are desirous to leave on account of the peculiar condition of things which surround them at home, and that they look upon the Golden State as the place, above all others, for them to come to and try life over.

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in solid steel machinery, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "S. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

—FOR—

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"Buchu. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. Wm. Weightman, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

PIONEER BLIND TROUPE.—In this age of humbug associations, including a category commencing with consolidated quartz companies and ending with side-show jugglery, it is really refreshing to meet with something that merits the attention, respect and support of the public. The "Pioneer Blind Troupe" (consisting of four gentlemen, some of whom by unfortunate accidents in the mines, and others by serious illness have lost the precious boon of sight), gave an entertainment in this place on Thursday night. The performance was successful and conducted in a manner which indicated that they did not rely alone on that natural sympathy which all good people feel for the unfortunate, but seemingly inspired by a consciousness of that merit which years of laborious study alone can bestow on one in their profession, they received the applause of an audience delighted with an exhibition of musical attainments that would do honor to those who make more pretentious claims to public support, and who have had no personal misfortunes to interfere with their studies. We commend the troupe to the kind consideration of the public as one worthy of support. The troupe will give another entertainment, at Templar Hall, to-night.

CELEBRATION TO-DAY.—The committee of arrangements—E. H. Baker, Wm. Minis and Jacob Levison—have been very successful in making preparations for the celebration to-day, and invite everybody to participate in a grand Barbecue, to be given by the Democratic Clubs of this county. The following is the order of the day: The procession will form on Court block, at 10 o'clock A. M., under the supervision of J. I. Underhill, Marshal of the day, and march to the grounds prepared for the occasion, where the exercises will be—1st. Prayer by Eld. J. N. Pendegast. 2d. Music by the band. 3d. Reading Declaration of Independence, by W. A. Henry. 4th. Music by the band. 5th. Oration, by Rev. T. H. B. Anderson, of Sacramento. 6th. Music by the band. 7th. Dinner. 8th. Regular toasts. 9th. Music. 10th. Volunteer toasts. 11th. Music. President of the day, Wm. Minis. Vice-Presidents: J. A. Douglas, Wm. Dresbach, W. S. Huston, Wm. Montgomery, J. W. Price, Milton Dale, F. G. Russell, W. M. Green, J. Wilcoxen, Jason Watkins, Jacob Levison.

DAVISVILLE.—The proposed location for the depot of the Vallejo Railroad, on Putah Creek, is now being laid off in lots, and a town of considerable importance will doubtless soon spring up in that locality. The site is on the bank of Putah Creek, at Davis' ranch, in a healthy and rich agricultural district settled by farmers, most of whom have secured a competence to themselves as the reward of energy and frugality. A large store is already in process of erection and will be completed and furnished with new goods in a few days, by the proprietor, Wm. Dresbach, who is well known in the community as a gentleman of superior business attainments and social qualities. The hotel there is thronged with visitors attracted thither by the promising business character of the place. The new town is to be called Davisville.

A SAFEGUARD.—The destruction of many valuable crops from being ignited by sparks from steam threshers has led to the invention of a contrivance for the prevention of such accidents. We witnessed a test, a few days since, of one of these improvements attached to the thresher of Mr. Hamilton, at Davisville. The invention consists of a patent extinguisher placed in the top of the smoke-stack, so arranged that every spark is precipitated by the action of steam into a reservoir of water. There seems to be no possibility of accident with this improvement.

I. O. O. F.—At a regular meeting of Woodland Lodge No. 111, on Saturday evening last, these persons were elected officers for the ensuing term: A. J. Stiner, N.G.; D. M. Burns, V.G.; Theo. Demming, R.S.; L. Deitz, P.S.; G. J. Overshiner, Treas. Trustees—H. C. Grover, N. Wyckoff, T. J. Dexter. Installation on Saturday evening next, 11th inst.

"YANKEE LON."—This ubiquitous individual whose forte is making stump-speeches, singing songs and selling razor-strops, has been stopping in town this week and giving side-walk entertainments to delighted audiences. He deals in a kind of sharpening paste, manufactured by himself, and seems to be doing a good business.

ONLY A SHOWER.—On Saturday last an election for School Trustees was held in this place. The candidates were Dr. H. Jackson and D. Winchell, (Republicans) against D. B. Goode and G. E. Sill, (Democrats.) The last named gentlemen were elected by a majority of sixty-six.

BEAUTIFUL VINYARD.—In company with our friend Joseph Heath, we visited, a few days since, the ranch of Fred. Werner, on Putah Creek. He has one of the finest vinyards in the county, and knows how to "keep hotel."

FINE WHEAT.—We have been shown fine specimens of wheat grown on the ranch of J. D. Curl. Many of the heads are seven inches in length, and contain more than one hundred grains.

MODEL.—A gentleman at Davisville has the model of a combined header, thresher, cleaner and sacker. The model is in good working order and is quite a curiosity.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—We regret to learn that our young friend Tully Baker, son of E. H. Baker, is seriously ill. On going to press we are informed that but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.—The erection of a number of new buildings has been recently commenced in town.

NEW WHEAT.—New wheat, of a superior quality, has been received at the Woodland Mills this week.

MELODEON.—An excellent melodeon is offered for sale at Elliott & Hall's drug store.

AN OLD RANGER KILLED.—Capt. Harry Love, one of California's pioneers, was shot and killed in an affray with a German, near Santa Cruz, on the 25th ult.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

Working Men.

The noblest men that live on earth,
Are men whose hands are brown with toil,
Who, backed by no ancestral graves,
Hew down the woods and till the soil;
And win thereby a prouder fame
Than follows king's or warrior's name.

The noble working men what'er their task,
To carve the stone, to bear the hod,
They wear upon their honest brows
The royal stamp and seal of God;
And brighter are their drops of sweat
Than diamonds in a coronet.

God bless the noble working men—
Who rear the cities of the plain;
Who dig the mines and build the ships,
And drive the commerce of the main;
God bless them, for their swarthy hands
Have wrought the glory of all lands.

LET THE WOMEN PROPOSE.—They have a liberal and progressive paper at Jackson, Ohio, called the Standard, which has taken to advocating, with serious zeal, the right of women to make proposals of marriage, and the propriety of doing so. The Standard says:

"If a woman loves a man, let her tell him so in a prudent, delicate manner, and if he is a man of sense (and no other kind of man deserves the love of a woman), he will reply in a becoming manner. If the effort is too great, write out your proposal and send it to him. I believe in writing. You can weigh your words and consider their probable effect. Try it, girls, especially during leap year. Many a worthy man is too diffident to propose, who if a sensible woman (and only such I address), should propose, would accept. Let your communication be strictly confidential, and no honorable man will betray that confidence. But let not the men leave all to the women during leap year. Go on with your part of the contract, as usual. I believe that marriage, as a general rule, is best for both men and women. Of course, there are exceptions."

THE RIGHT KIND OF RELIGION.—"I want," says Uncle Vick, "and we all want a religion that not only bears on the sinfulness of sin, but on the rascality of lying and stealing—a religion that banishes all small measures from the counters, small baskets from the stalls, pebbles from the cotton bags, sand from sugar, chickory from coffee, alum from bread, lard from butter, strycnine from wine, and water from milk cans. The religion that is to advance the world," says Uncle Vick, "will not put all the big strawberries and peaches on the top and all bad ones on the bottom. It will not offer more baskets of foreign wines than the vineyards ever produced in bottles."

INIMITABLE.—The comment of a colored preacher on the text. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," is inimitable as well as eloquent. "Bruddren, has any ob you kowd a church that died 'cause it gave too much? Dey don't die dat way. But if you do, just let me know and I'll make a pilgrimage to dat church, and I'll climb to de soft light of de moon on its moss covered roof, and I'll stand dere, and lift my hands to heaven and say, 'Blessed are de dead dat die in de Lord.'"

A DUTCHMAN lately remarked: "Vonce a long vile before I vent out to mine abble orchard and climbed a bear dree to get some beaches to make mine vrow blum pudden mit, and ven I got to de toppermost pranches I fell from the lowermost limb mit one leg on poth sides of de fence, and I had liked to stove my outside in very much."

HE HAS COME.—Who? Read the following announcement, copied from the Musical World, and you will know, but you will not be able to tell any one else: "It gives us much pleasure to announce that Schwaschhnobesenontschprckenschmpenstenpitzfundikite, the celebrated German tambourine player, has arrived, and will soon give a concert."

THE mistaken woman, who used to tie her mischeivous boy to a bed-post on Sunday, (while she went to meeting,) to make him learn the hymn—will find the hymn, and the bed-post, and the Sunday very much mixed up, and he will hate them all alike many years, if not always.

"Thine earthly Sabbaths, Lord, we love"—

AN occasional contributor to a daily paper, in a private note says: "I guess I could chop a load of wood if I should set about it earnestly, or perhaps could carry up a ton or two of coal, but there is one thing I know would stagger me—I could not edit a newspaper."

As the ostrich uses both legs and wings when the Arabian courser bounds in his rear; as the winged lightnings leap from heaven when the thunderbolts are loosened—so does a little nigger run when the Ku-Kluxes are after him.
